

baunō Runic:  Pronunciation: /'baʊ.nɔː/

noun · feminine · ō-stem

Meanings

bean

Etymology

Unknown. Ostensibly derived from pre-Germanic *b^hau-n-eh₂, often cited as from earlier *babnō, from Proto-Indo-European *b^hab^h- ('bean'), however this is disputed. Likely a borrowing from a European substrate; compare Proto-Italic *fabā ('bean'), Proto-Slavic *bobъ ('bean, fava bean'), Ancient Greek φακός (phakós) (phakós, 'lentil and its seed'), which imply roots ending in -b^h or -k.
