Etymology

From pre-Germanic *d^hē-tí-s, (with a full-grade root with oxytone accent, giving the Verner's Law -d- in Proto-Germanic, see (Ringe 2013)), from *d^héh₁-ti-s ~ *d^hh₁-táy-s from root *d^heh₁- ('to do, to put'). Cognates are Ancient Greek θέσις (thesis) (thesis, 'a setting, placement, arrangement'), Proto-Italic fētis* ('deed'), Proto-Slavic děti* ('action, operation; act, deed').
