

skeutana

Pronunciation: /'skeɪ.ta.nã/

verb · Strong class 2

Meanings

to shoot (especially of an arrow), dash

Etymology

Traditionally derived from Proto-Indo-European (s)kewd-* ('to advance, propel'), and compared with Albanian hedh ('to throw'). However, Kroonen prefers to take the word as a back-formation from the iterative verb skuttōną* ('to shoot') (whence Old Norse skotra ('to shove, push'), Icelandic skota ('idem')), which he derives from a Proto-Indo-European sket-* ('to drive forward'), and connects with Lithuanian skàsti ('to jump, hop'), Latin scatō ('to gush forth, swarm').
