

taik(k)ōnā Runic: ᚖᚦ | ᚨ(ᚨ)ᚱᚦᚦ Pronunciation: /ˈtaɪk.koː.nā/

verb · Weak class 2

Meanings

1. to show, point
2. to mark

Etymology

(SS: this was originally “taiknōnā” but changing it based on Kroonen.)

Iterative from earlier paradigm *taikkōþi ~ *tigunanþi, from Pre-Germanic *doyk-néh2-ti ~ *dík-ŋh2-énti from Proto-Indo-European root deyǵ-* (‘to point out, show’). If Kroonen’s analysis is correct, the form may continue an older o/zero-ablauting iterative pattern, with the singular in o-grade beside the plural in zero-grade. The Old High German reflex shows a taigōnā variant built from the original plural forms.
